“35. SOKAK” TECHNICAL TRIP, 21 February 2012

Department of Interior Architecture and Environmental Design arranged a technical trip to the construction site of 35. Sokak with second year students for IAED 202 Design Studio II Course. During the 2011-2012 Spring Semester the students will be inspired by the movie “New York, I Love You” and design their projects with the concept of “İzmir, I love you”. For the project various social and cultural aspects of İzmir will be researched and interpreted for the design of houses for different client profiles.

The instructors of the course, Asst. Prof. Dr. Deniz Hasırcı, Didem Özdel, Sedef Mentеше Akad, Zeynep Edes, Rana Vanlı Ballar, Kenan Eren Şansal and İpek Kaştaş, student assistants Enes Can Kılıç, Ruhi Eryılmaz, Selin Erbilgiç and Bilge Merve Fidan and 47 students joined the trip. Students took the measurements in the construction site and had the chance to collect information about “Lightweight Steel Construction Systems”. Following the trip, students presented the plans, sections and elevations of the project site along with the technical and photos.
